

MAS 401

WAFAs and Work Experience

MAS 401 is the final program offered in the Mountain Adventure School series. The program offers Wilderness Advanced First Aid, a 40-hour industry standard course that trains individuals to deal with incidents in a wilderness environment. MAS 401 also offers work experience in the outdoors field to its participants. The program has been designed to provide students with employable skills and experience for future work in an outdoor recreation or education field.
